

"This is an excellent resource to facilitate groups of people and unite a community. Every school system could benefit from these Playshops!"

Dr. Donald L. Martin, Jr., Superintendent

"I love how the creative and cooperative exercises assist teachers, parents, and students to join together. Playshops are a great way to build stronger bonds!"

Pamela Kaye Gabbard, American School Counselor Association President

Playshops!

Playshops provide activities for adults and children to discover shared feelings, thoughts, and life experiences. Group participants have fun working together and discovering meaningful connections that build and strengthen their relationships!

Learn to facilitate your own Playshops with your school, church, or group to improve communication, trust, camaraderie and rapport! All materials are 100% reproducible to conduct your own successful Playshop from start to finish!

Scott Ertl has performed comedy, magic & juggling for over one million people for circus and school audiences throughout the U.S. and abroad! His humor evoked more than laughter—he brought people together through play and now he shares this talent with others!

Playshops have reminded thousands of families how to empower one another to share and connect. Through cooperative exercises, participants discover that they are more alike others than different. Scott earned his Master's degree from Virginia Commonwealth University and works as a school counselor in Winston-Salem, NC when he's not facilitating Playshop trainings.
